18th July, 2011

Dear Mr. Karim,

I have been asked to thank you and the Editor of British Bangladeshi Who's Who for your kind letter to The Queen about the 2011 edition.

Her Majesty appreciates your thoughtfulness in writing as you did and, in return, sends her best wishes to both those who feature in, and those involved with, the publication.

Yours sincerely,

David Ryan Director, Private Secretary's Office

Mr. Abdul Karim

From the Deputy Prime Minister

15 June 2011

Thank you for your letter of 6 May regarding the publication of the British Bangladeshi Who's Who 2011. I am very pleased to be able to contribute the following message for inclusion:

This new edition of British Bangladeshi Who's Who is a testament to the continuing success of British Bangladeshis across the UK and their vital contribution to our country's growth.

The individuals listed here have made a huge contribution, by excelling in their fields and by putting something back into Britain. They are the pride not just of British Bangladeshi communities but of the country as a whole.

They are also a powerful reminder that we do our best as individuals when we come together with others with the same ambitions to pursue excellence in our respective fields whether that is the arts, politics, sport, science and business or by working in our local communities. A strong society is built on the foundations on such shared aspirations and shared values.

I wish you the very best with the launch of your publication.

Mr Abdul Karim

STATEMENT FROM RT HON ED MILIBAND MP (LEADER OF OPPOSITION)

British Bangladeshis make a huge contribution to life across Britain as they have done for nearly 100 years.

We see their impact in the economy, the legal system, our media and now our Parliament.

It is important this contribution is recognised which is why I welcome British Bangladeshi Who's Who 2011. I congratulate all of those who appear in it and make such an important contribution to our nation.

STATEMENT FROM THE LONDON MAYOR:

This publication is a fantastic way of highlighting the vast and wide-ranging achievements of Bangladeshi communities in London and the UK. I am pleased to see so many Bangladeshis making their mark in every sphere of endeavour and getting the recognition which they so richly deserve. In business, the arts, media, literature, and financial services, to name a few, Bangladeshis are making a vital contribution to the capital's economy and society.

There's a big community spirit amongst Bangladeshis in London and I'd like to see even more people giving something back by getting involved in Team London, my ambitious vision to get Londoners volunteering to help tackle some of the city's social issues. Whether you are interested in reading to a child, making your local park safer, or looking out for an elderly person in your area, the key thing is to get involved. With less than a year to go to the London 2012 Games, there are lots of opportunities to volunteer during the Olympics and really make these the best Games the world has ever seen!

I wish Abdul Karim and his team the best of luck with this year's event and hope the publication goes from strength to strength in future years.

Boris Johnson

Mayor of London

Message from the High Commissioner

I am happy to know that the Bangla Mirror is going to publish its fifth edition of British Bangladeshi Who's Who.

The contributions of expatriate Bangladeshis to politics, business, art and cultural, education, and other professions are something to be proud of. We all appreciate their sacrifice, determination and striving for the remarakable success. There is no doubt that the success of Bangladeshi communities in the UK would further enhance our image and reputation to the global communities. The determination and endless efforts to make the noteworthy achievements would eventually drive the young generation to move step further in the way of success. We, all Bangladeshis, are proud to be a part of the success stories.

The recognition of the achivements of our communities living in the United Kingdom is indeed a commendable initiative. The Bangladeshis living in home and abroad could know about the achievements and accomplishments through the publicaion, and would also encourage them to do the same for them and for the country as well. I gladly recognize the brillant endeavours of the Bangla Mirror and look forward to seeing their full co-operation and engagement in building a flourishing Bangladeshi community in the UK.

I wish the Bangladesh Mirror's endeavour would meet with notable success in the coming years.

( Dr. M Sayeedur Rahman Khan )

Foreword from the Editor in Chief

Now in its fourth year, we sincerely hope that our readers can appreciate the progress that has been made. British Bangladeshi Who's Who has become the definitive guide as to the 'movers and shakers' of the Bangladeshi community in Britain.

The gems we have unearthed in the form of 'unsung heroes' I believe signifies the true value of a publication of this nature: the ability to unearth those from our community who make a real contribution to Britain.

I hope that you find this year's edition as exciting to read as previous editions.

Abdul Karim (Goni)

Foreword from the Editor

This publication in my view has gone from strength to strength. What started off as a project between a father and his son has mushroomed into what I believe to be an authoritative guide as to exactly Who's Who in the Bangladeshi community here in Britain.

The publication also highlights the contribution made by our community at a time when the integration and value of minority and ethnic communities are coming under constant challenge by the media and other sections of the community.

I do sincerely hope that you find this year's publication an interesting read.

Shahadoth Karim

Helal Uddin Abbas

SECTOR: Politics

Helal Uddin Abbas is a former Leader of London Borough of Tower Hamlets. He came to the UK in 1972. He joined the Labour party in 1979 and since then has gone onto to serve in several positions including; ward secretary, chair of a secondary school governing body, councillor, vice chair of the London Borough of Tower Hamlets Education Committee, and lead member for education

Helal Uddin Abbas was one of the founders of the first locally based anti-National Front organisations, called the Anti Racist Committee of Asians in East London (ARC-AEL). Mr Abbas has worked previously as a youth and community worker in several London boroughs as well as the training programme director of Common Purpose, a national charity. He was the lead member for education in the London Borough of Tower Hamlets and leader of the council for a number years. As leader of the council he was responsible for improving the standard of education in the borough, ensuring housing issues were resolved as well as developing new houses and providing residents with access to employment and training.

During his time at the council he achieved a good rating under the government's comprehensive performance assessment initiative, which recognised Tower Hamlets had both a focused and astute political leadership as well as strong, clear management. Under Cllr Abbas' leadership the Borough of Tower Hamlets has achieved many Beacon Awards in fields such as: community cohesion, race equality, getting closer to communities and support for social care workers as well as an LGC award for the best Social Services Management Team.

Helal Uddin Abbas is notably proud of his political achievements in regeneration, transport, housing and education. He is actively involved in campaigning for local residents and constantly stresses the importance of value, respect and inclusiveness. He was also involved with the Bengali Housing Action Group and was the secretary of the organisation, he currently continues to serve as a councillor.

Abdul Ahad

SECTOR: Catering

Mr Abdul Ahad is a British Bangladeshi who has been working in the catering industry for nearly thirty years, and it is fair to say that he has been more than a success.

His first restaurant was opened in Milton Keynes in 1980 and since then his catering empire has grown stronger and stronger. From the moment Mr Ahad entered the catering trade, he saw a vision to create an ultimate shrine to Indian food. In 1998, his plans began to take shape, and finally in early 2002, the dream became reality.

As the owner of the famous Jaipur Restaurant in Milton Keynes, Mr Ahad is the man behind the largest purpose built Indian restaurant in Europe.

The Jaipur Restaurant itself is an architectural landmark building of great beauty, and one that Mr Ahad refers to as his own 'mini Tai Mahal'. The food and the service inside is equally impressive, having won practically every available award to Indian cuisine.

Furthermore, although initially Jaipur was solely an Indian Restaurant, it now houses a Thai restaurant, the Orchid Lounge, on the first floor.

For all his success as a restaurateur, Mr Ahad is equally as successful in other fields -one of which is fundraising for charities. Two of Mr Ahad's favourite causes are 'the Jaipur Limb Project' of the Rotary International and Save the Children charity.

The 'Jaipur Limb Project' set up in Jaipur, India, is engaged in manufacturing prosthetic limbs for children and adults who have lost their limbs due to disease or accidents. The provision of a new limb gives them a life changing experience enabling them to a full life in many different ways. Mr Ahad is a major supporter and contributor to the project during the last twelve years, raising over £30,000 through the Annual Charity Dinner.

The Ousedale School branch of the Save the Children fund engages in a variety of fundraising activities. For last 19 years, the Annual Gala Dinner at the Jaipur is one of the highlights of the fundraising calendar and gives everyone a chance to participate either by donating for the raffle draw or by attending the dinner. As recognition of his services, Mr Ahad was made the Honorary President of the Ousedale School branch of the Charity.

Mr Ahad is also a high profile and integral member of Britian's Bangladeshi community and has supported the development of schools, mosques, madrassas and other charity projects in his parental village in Sylhet.

Sved Ahmed hit the headlines by reaching the final five in Series two of BBC TV's 'The Apprentice' – earning himself a National Television Award nomination in the process. Syed has seven GCSE's and a BTEC National Diploma in Business & Finance. Prior to embarking on his successful corporate career, Syed was trained as a junior pilot in the Air Training Corps and also earned his Duke of Edinburgh Gold standard award.

A successful and dynamic entrepreneur with a background in IT recruitment, Syed started his first business venture in 2004, when he founded IT People Ltd. He played a key role in bringing in the business of numerous big accounts, including worldfamous corporations such as Morgan Stanley, Reuters and Centrica. This strong performance, coupled with Syed's careful positioning of the brand within the marketplace, enabled him to agree a deal with his business partner for his shares and leave to pursue his entrepreneurial instincts and set up a new venture in a growth market.

His energy was channeled into SAVortex Ltd, a UK company that has developed revolutionary air-spinning heating technology for hand-dryers. The product has been compared to the game-changing cyclone technology Dyson brought to the vacuum cleaner market. After securing international patents and developing two prototypes, Syed hand-picked a management team and board of directors to assist the international launch of SAVortex.

As a dedicated and energetic entrepreneur, with an infectious enthusiasm for business, Syed also found time to develop a sideline in keynote and motivational speaking – including appearing as a guest speaker at The Global Management Challenge competition and presenting awards at The National Final held at CIMA headquarters. Sved also rolled-out 'Pioneering Ambitions' – an initiative sponsored by Oxford University and hosted The Edge Competition final at London Stock Exchange, sponsored by AIGO & SEEDA.

Syed actively supports and sponsors several charities including CRP – Bangladesh, The Queen Mary University London, BFA, QMBC, Islamic Relief, Bangladeshi Female Academy, and The Anthony Nolan Trust.

Councillor Ali was born in Islam Pur, Sylhet, Bangladesh and came to the UK aged 7. He is married to Amanda Ali and has three boys, Rio, Zachariah and Noah.

His early initiatives included the Camden Monitoring Group (1989) to combat racial harassment and the Camden United Poject (1994) to unite young people through their common interest in football diverting them away from racism, crime and conflict. Councillor Ali received one of the first Camden Good Citizen Awards. He has been a ward councillor for the Re-

Councillor Ali was appointed Mayor of Camden at the age of 34 (2003/4) when he was the youngest Mayor in the country. Councillor Ali achieved a number of historic firsts in Camden: the youngest ever Mayor; the first Bangladeshi Mayor; the first Muslim Mayor; the first Bangladeshi Executive Member and the first Bangladeshi Leader of the Labour Group and the Council. Councillor Ali saw his role as reaching out to all sections of the community to ensure that the political process was understood by all and worked well for everyone.

During his Mayoral year Councillor Ali met the Queen and most members of the Royal family. His most memorable moment was meeting Nelson Mandela.

Councillor Ali was an advisor to the Metropolitan Police, Prince's Trust, King's Cross SRB Board and a Governor for Westminster Kingsway College.

He was also the Chair of the Healthy Families Partnership at King's Cross, Board member of the West Euston Partnership, Chair of the WEP Planning Working Group and on the Executive Board of the Community Empowerment Network.

Cllr Junab Ali SECTOR: Politics and Business

Cllr Junab Ali resides in Swindon Wiltshire. He completed his higher education from Swindon College and qualified as an electrician.

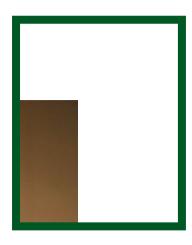

Cllr Ali joined the Labour party in 2005 and worked tirelessly to ensure a third term for the then Prime Minister Tony Blair and the labour government. He was not only the first British Bangladeshi councillor to be elected to Swindon Borough Council. but also the first Muslim councillor to achieve this feat.

Junab Ali describes himself as a devout politician with the utmost pedigree of determination to bring about positive change. He is an active member of the South Swindon Labour Party Executive and the party's chief whip for Swindon Council.

Cllr Junab Ali is passionate about community affairs and as a result he is extensively involved with numerous charitable organisations and initiatives. He has raised huge sums of money for various causes. Furthermore, he is a founder member of Bangladeshi Female Academy (BFA).

Aside from politics Cllr Ali is also the proprietor of various restaurants. His hobbies and interests include history and travelling.

Cllr Shahed Ali SECTOR: Politics, Arts and Promotion

Cllr Shahed Ali was born in the east end of London in 1970. He went to Sir John Cass Foundation school in Stepney in the London borough of Tower Hamlets. After completing his schooling, Cllr Ali studied a BSc in Social Policy and Management at London Guildhall University.

He has one older brother and one younger sister. His father is Late Haji Wahab Ullah, and his mother is Somirtha Khanom. They originated from village: Barkat Pur, P.O: Gohor Pur, P.S: Balagoni, Dist: Sylhet, Bangladesh.

The area of Tower Hamlets is one that Cllr Ali has a great affinity for. He has been a member of Tower Hamlets council for the ward of Whitechapel since 2006.

Away from politics, Cllr Ali is well known throughout the Bangladeshi community for organsing numerous cultural events. His reputation for staging shows with amazing visual and aural effects, otherwise known as 'Ekti Shahed Ali Upohaar', have enabled him to hold unique events at prestigious venues such as the London Arena, Wembley Arena and the Royal Festival Hall. He founded the annual Bangladesh International Media Awards (BIMA), an event to give recognition to the film, television and music industry, which is broadcast live around the world via several television networks.

He has also produced several Television Dramas and has become a household name and very much respected by all celebrity artists of Bangladesh.

Cllr Ali also holds the honour of being the first Asian person to organise an event at Historic Royal Palaces – The Tower of London. That event, held in July 2007, proved to be extremely popular as Cllr Ali, ever the shrewd entrepreneur, brought over the 2006 finalists of NTV Close Up such as Salma, Nishita, Ronti and Muhin.

Previous to being a councillor, Shahed was a youth worker, an ethnic arts adviser and a social worker amongst other things. By having such a varied professional background, it is easy to see why he has been such a success in the field of local politics, although even this does not present the full picture, as he has been a strong vocal point on issues that affect the British Bangladeshi community. He believes he is not an opportunist or career politician, but a challenging voice.

Away from his life as a councillor and events organiser, Cllr Ali has a number of business interests including the popular Brick Lane music and book shop Sangeeta Ltd, a restaurant in Frinton-on-Sea and a property portfolio.

Cllr Mizanur Rahman Chaudhurv

SECTOR: Politics

His worshipful the chair of council and first citizen of tower hamlets Mizanur Rahman Chaudhury (Mizan) has been a resident of Tower Hamlets since 1978 and went to Canon Barnett Primary School and to Sir John Cass's Foundation School and Aberdeen Grammar School (Scotland) for his secondary education.

Mizan has been an active politician and community activist for over a decade and is well known amongst the political activists, young people and the community. He was a businessman and was studying fashion and design at the London College of Fashion before entering into politics. He made his mark in 2000 when he became one of the voungest active member of the Labour Party in Tower Hamlets and has served in various positions since – he was the Labour Party Secretary in Spitalfields and Banglatown Ward from 2001-2006, Assistant Secretary of the Local Government Committee from 2003-2004 and Youth Officer for Tower Hamlets General Committee 2001-2003. Mizan is known to be the youngest influential figure in Tower Hamlets and Labour Party politics – he has always played an imperative role in mediating and power brokerage and has helped many individuals to get to where they are today in the political arena.

Mizan got elected as a Councillor in Bethnal Green South Ward at the 2010 Local Election - he was elected with the highest votes and surprised everyone as he was not favourite to win - as he lives in the neighbouring ward, Spitalfields and Banglatown and was competing against local heavyweights in Bethnal Green South. His commitment and determination to win and being able to gain local peoples trust and confidence in him led him to his success – a fighter in his own right.

By profession Mizan is a Civil Servant working in the Department for Education. Before his election to Council, he was a Ministerial Secretary under the Labour Government from 2003-2010 and during this time he has worked with high ranking Government Ministers and Members of Parliament.

Prior to being elected as the Chair of Council (Civic Mayor), Mizan was Olympic Ambassador of Tower Hamlets, Member of the Council's Audit Committee, Appeals Committee, Human Resources Committee and the General Purpose Committee, which he is still a member of.

The role of Chair of Council (Civic Mayor) is an important element of the council's governance structure. It is the highest office that residents, through their elected representatives, can grant a Member of the Council. Mizan was formally appointed to the Office at the first meeting of the Council in this Municipal Year - 18th May 2011.

Mizan is known in the community as a principled talented brave young man with conviction and love for his community – he wants to do the best for everyone and inspire young people to get active in politics and the community. He is the youngest Civic Mayor (Chair of Council) to be elected in Tower Hamlets to the Chain of Office – a rising star of the community.

Abdul Haque SECTOR: : Information Technology and Media

Abdul Haque was born in Moulvibazar. Bangladesh in 1976, and currently resides in Maida Vale, West London.

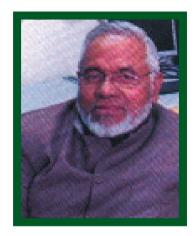

Mr Hague studied a BSc in Maths and Computing at Brunel University, and due to complete an MSc in Advance Software Engineering at the University of Westminster in 2009. As a civil servant, he used to work as a specialist software engineer on flight data processes for National Air Traffic Services [NATS].

However, he has now set up his own company and is the Founder & Managing Director of Purple I Technologies, which specializes in IT software and has played an integral part in promoting the EPOS system to the Bangaldeshi/Indian Restaurant industry. He is also the Vice- Chairman of Channel S, the television station for Bangladeshis in Britain and Europe, which was founded by his brother Mahee Ferdhous Jalil - where his technological expertise means that he oversees the busy IT department there.

Away from his successful career, Mr Hague enjoys nothing more than travelling the globe. This seems only natural considering his previous career in aviation technology. He has been to many different countries around the world, but feels that Malaysia is his favourite. He cites the friendly nature of the Malaysian people, the cuisine, the value and the fact that it is a strong Islamic nation as reasons why he finds it so favourable. However, he has also come away from places such as the Maldives and Canada with glowing reports.

Aside from travelling, Mr Haque indulges his hobbies of badminton, going to the gym and watching films, although with such a schedule it must be hard for him to fit these in. Mr Haque is married to Mary Rahman who runs her own successful London based PR company, which specialises in promoting clients hailing from the arts, theatre, film and fashion industries.

Cllr Ahmadul Haque SECTOR: Politics

Ahmadul Haque served as Deputy Mayor of Sandwell Metropolitan Borough Council. He was the first Bangladeshi Councillor elected in the Midland region in 1995 and has been reelected ever since. In 2006 Cllr. Hague received an award from Channel S for his services to the community. Cllr Hague arrived in the UK in July 1963 and initially became a member of the Pakistan Welfare Association in Birmingham.

Whilst working in various different companies. Cllr Hague was always keen to get into politics and in 1965 became a member of the old Labour party. With friction simmering in East Pakistan and West Pakistan, Cllr. Hague set up the first Bangladesh Action Committee outside of Birmingham in 1971. In the same year Cllr Hague helped raise close to £1500 from contributions made by the residents of North Birmingham for the Bangladesh Action Committee movement as well as setting Midlands Awami League.

Cllr Haque is a very active member of the Bangladeshi community always campaigned for equality and as a result in 1976 received an award from the Bangladeshi High Commission. Through effort and having to overcome numerous obstacles, Cllr Hague also helped set up the Tipton Muslim Trust Association which is now referred to as Al-Islah Trust and a community centre for local Muslims in Tipton. Clearly evident from his involvement with the Bangladesh Women's Association and his executive position with the Tipton Action Group, Cllr Hague tries to serve all members of the community.

In the mid eighties, Cllr Hague purchased a terraced house via the trust and later set up the Sandwell Confederation of Bangladeshi Muslim Organisation (SCOBMO).

Cllr Hague is also a founder member of the City Challenge Project as well as Bangladesh Youth Movement. Through over twenty vears of persistence and hard work campaigning for level crossings in Tipton a 2.2 million pound project finally commenced last year. Cllr Hague also played a pivotal role during Ms Syeda Khatun's election campaign who later became the first Bangladeshi female councillor in the Midlands area in 1999.

Cllr Shafiqul Haque was born in 1960 in Bahubal. His education began at the Bahubal Upazilla Primary School before passing his SSC at Dinanath High School in 1976. When he left high school, he completed his HSC at the Sylhet Government College. This was followed by both a BA and an LLB to become a lawyer in the Habigonj Judge Court.

Cllr Haque moved to the UK in 1991, and quickly became involved in the catering industry. He owned a restaurant from 1991 to 2003. He also enrolled at Guildhall University to complete an LLB.

However, in 1992 Shafiqul Haque, as he was then known, joined the Labour party. This move would prove to have a great impact on his life only a decade later. This was also his first participation with politics in the UK.

In May 2002, Shafiqul Haque became Cllr Shafiqul Haque as he was elected the Councillor for the ward of St. Katharine's and Wapping in the London borough of Tower Hamlets. Since this initial election, Cllr Haque has proven to be an integral member of Tower Hamlet's Borough Council. He was chosen to be the Vice-Chairman for the Council's Development Panel and also the Vice-Chairman of the Excellence of Public Service Committee among other important positions.

However, it was in 2004 that Shafiqul Haque's prominence in Tower Hamlets' Council really came to the fore as he was chosen to be the Borough's Deputy Mayor. Only two years later, in June 2006, the man from Bahubal's ascension into politics would reach its highest point as he was elected the Mayor of Tower Hamlets.

Cllr Shafiqul Haque served as a successful Mayor whilst he held that position and represented the community very well.

Currently Mr Haque is still a Labour party councillor for St. Katharine's and Wapping. He qualified as solicitor in 2009 and is based at a firm in East London.

Additionally Cllr Haque is involved with various community initiatives.

Cllr Haque is married and has three children – two sons and a daughter.

Any attempt to write history or present state of Bangla print or electronic media in the UK will not be complete without mentioning one name, Syed Samadul Haque. Born in Kishorehoni and brought up in the tea valley of Sylhet, Samadul Haque was educated in Dhanmondi Govt. Boys High School, Dhaka College and Dhaka University.

Adventure and carrying out new ideas is part of Samadul Hague's character. In 1973 while he was a Secretary of Dhaka College Student Union, traveled to India with a State Student delegation. After a brief break of study to attend Military Academy, Samadul Hague came back to Dhaka University to study Politics. While in the University he was also Director of a family business, Sputnik International Limited. From 1981 to 1983 he traveled to London several times on business. But journey to London in late 1983 was not a very pleasant one. This time he came to London to sue a British Company, Wells Bridge Motors Limited of Cambridge for breach of Contract. This litigation in the High Court of London changed the destiny of Samadul Hague. He decided to live some time in London and took up a career in media. Soon he was appointed as London Correspondent of Dainik Bangla, the than national newspaper of Bangladesh and began writing for different newspapers in Dhaka & London.

In 1984 Samadul Haque joined the Weekly Janomot of London. Soon became the News Editor and Executive Editor, and editor in 1989. In the year 1987 his story on personal life of the than President of Bangladesh H M Ershad was also picked up by Sunday Observer of London as lead story and in response the government of Bangladesh retaliated by banning 'Janomot' in Bangladesh.

He spent good ten years of his youthful time to revitalize and give a solid foundation for Janomot. In 1993-94 he served as part-time Media Consultant of Bethnal Green City Challenge, a project of the Department of Environment of British Government. In 1995 while he was editor of BNS, introduced International news agency service in Bangladesh in Bangla. He also represented CNN in Bangladesh from 1995 – 1998.

Samadul Hague is a pioneer of ethnic television broadcasting in the UK. In May 1998 he with two friends formed Bangla Television Limited and became Managing Director of the company. This Company launched first satellite Bangla TV Channel outside Indian sub-continent on 16 September 1999. During his long career in broadcasting industry he also served as Director of News of Reminiscent Television, Managing Director of Channel S Bangladesh and CEO of Takbeer TV in the UK.

His innovative contribution in British Bangla Media includes launching of 'Daily Janomot', first Bangla internet daily in 1995 and Bangla tele-news service in the UK in 1994. He is also a pioneer of Call Centre industry in Bangladesh. In the year 2009 he opened Orbit Communications Call Centre, first international Call Centre in Bangladesh.

Outside his professional world Samadul Hague is a Community activist. In 80's and 90's he was in the forefront of anti-racist and ethnic minority rights movement in the UK. He was a founder EC member of Tower Hamlets Law Centre, founder General Secretary of Bangla Shahitya Porishod in the UK and also one of the Founder of London Bangla Press Club.

Hasina Momtaz

SECTOR: Communications/media

Hasina Momtaz's current role is as a communications brain behind the Mayor of London. Boris Johnson.

As such, she has chosen to challenge herself in the toughest environment.

Her journey to this point tells the story of a girl who came to London from the village of Beanibazaar, in Bangladesh, at the age of six. Because of her inability to speak English, she struggled to adjust to life in a very different culture and environment.

From these humble beginnings she went on to study at the prestigious London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE), noted for its illustrious alumni which includes Heads of State, Nobel Laureates, Historians, Philosophers, Economists and Academics.

She graduated with a BSc. Honours degree in International Relations, Law and Sociology.

Having advised two high profile Mayors' of London – both of whom are instantly recognisable by their first names only; the previous incumbent, Ken Livingstone, as well as the current Mayor - Hasina has worked on some of the biggest national and international breaking news stories of recent times such as the London bombings, the IPCC investigation into the shooting of Jean Charles de Menezes and the changeover of administration following the London Mayoral elections in 2008.

Working in the press office of a strategic, pan-London organisation with a budget of £11bn where the elected executive has the mandate of over 7.5 million Londoners, has given Hasina an intimate understanding of operating in complex political environments, the demands of highly pressured news organisations and handling high profile and sensitive media issues. It has also provided her with an opportunity to input into the activities of a dynamic, prestigious and forward thinking organisation which makes decisions that impact on the daily lives of millions of Londoners.

During her time at the Greater London Authority (GLA), Hasina has devised and executed wide-ranging and targeted media strategies, advised on interview bids for the Mayor, high profile policing and crime issues, sensitive community engagement issues as well as regularly briefing the Mayor himself and his top team.

In 2007, Hasina studied for a coveted industry qualification, the Chartered Institute of Public Relations Diploma (CIPR). The diploma has helped Hasina to apply a greater strategic and critical perspective to her work as well as increasing her understanding of operational/loaistical planning issues surrounding communications activities. It has also helped her to build on her wide-ranging expertise and in-depth knowledge of national, regional, local, BME, specialist and trade media.

Shuyeb completed his secondary education at King Edward Grammar School before moving to London as an undergraduate of the London School of Economics, where he studied social and economic history (and where he was President of the Bengali Societv). He then completed his Diploma in Law at the University of Birmingham, returning to London to complete his Bar Vocational Course, after which he was called to the Bar of England and Wales in 1998. Shuyeb completed his pupillage under the guidance of James Gillespie [lately known as the co-author of the Immigration Law Handbook] before joining 12 Old Square, Lincoln's Inn, as a Tenant in 2000.

Shuyeb is now a barrister specialising in Public and Administrative Law and has over twenty reported cases to his credit in this field, representing clients up to the Court of Appeal. Asked to comment upon Shuyeb's proposed entry in this year's Who's Who, Manjit Gill QC wrote: 'I found Shuyeb to be a brave, imaginative and intelligent advocate whose extreme enthusiasm for the law is matched by his unrelenting concern for the interests of his client. Certainly a practitioner to watch out for...'. To the same enquiry lan Macdonald QC wrote "I have recently led Shuyeb in a test case immigration appeal. I was impressed by his knowledge of immigration law and by his industry and hard work. I have no doubt he will go far".

Shuyeb recently moved to 1 Mile Court Building, The Chambers of Lord Gifford, QC. Shuyeb is married to Pahmida who is a pharmacist by profession; and daughter of Abu Bashir, a leading social campaigner and commentator and former head of policy at Bradford Council.

Outside his professional practice, Shuyeb is involved in various charitable ventures, not least those concerned with protecting the rights of vulnerable individuals and groups.

SYED MONSUR UDDIN

SECTOR: Media

Syed Monsur Uddin was a student at Dhaka College back in 1989. In his school days, he had flairs toward journalism as one of his uncles was a journalist who inspired him a lot.

Having finished his college studies, he got enrolled at the Department of Political Science, University of Dhaka and started contributing to weekly Ekota and Daily Bangla Bazar. He was the university reporter to both the newspapers and was elected Executive Member to Journalist's Association of the University. During the period, he regularly contributed to other national dailies on issues related to politics, education and culture. For a considerable period of time, he was attached with the first phone-in programme of BTV- 'Ovimot'- anchored by Md. Jahangir. The programme gave Monsur greater exposure to social and natural realities of Bangladesh.

After his Honours and Master degree in Political Science from the University of Dhaka – he joined Bangla Bazar as Senior Reporter in 1996. He used to look after Education bit. His reader thoroughly enjoyed his informative pieces while his critics were always apprehensive.

Syed Monsur came down to England in 1997 and joined the Bangla TV in 1999, as the electronic media started its maiden journey. He was with the News Room of Bangla TV and contributed greatly to its growth and development. After a year with the Bangla TV, he joined weekly Surma in 2000 as News Editor where he has been serving as the Editor since 2006. He contributed greatly to the newer look of the Surma that is widely recognised by his reader and colleagues. For a brief period, he was the founder News Editor of 'Bangla Express' – a short-lived another weekly publication of Surma News Group. He is a member of London Bangla Press Club, was in the Executive Committee of the club and founder member of Bishwa Shahitto Kendro-London.

Throughout his academic life he was also involved progressive student politics.

Appreciated as 'funny and lovely' by his son Sadaf, Syed Monsur is from Charabhanga Village of Madhabpur upazilla, Hobigoni. His father is Syed Muhammed Idris and mother is Rafia Khatun Chowdhury. Along with his wife Hadi Jannah and daughter Shompritee, they live in Chiawell, Essex. His hobbies include reading, gardening, travelling and cooking.

Abssar Mohammed Waess SECTOR: Catering

Abssar Mohammed Waess was born in Boro-bari, Amria, Sunamgoni, Bangladesh in 1967.

His father is late Alhai Abdul Boshor Mashuk Miah, and his mother is Mrs Badrun Nessa.

Mr Waess moved to the UK with his family in 1975. He completed his education in Berkshire, before completing a HND in Aerospace Engineering at North East Wales Institute of Technology. He obtained a degree in Aeromechanical Engineering from City University, London in 1991.

Mr Waess' career began when he joined his family's restaurant business in 1991. He guickly made progress, and started his own wholesale frozen food company – Eurasia Foods – while studying for his degree. He also set up a catering supplies company called Lais Brothers Ltd.

In 1996, he opened The Blue Cobra restaurant in Reading. Eleven years later, Mr Waess took another pioneering step and opened Xen, also in Reading. Currently, Mr. Waess is investing and developing an industrial scale, aqua culture project, known as 'Hail Hawor Project', in Mowlovi Bazar, Bangladesh, with the view to cultivate fish, pack, and export to the overseas market. He was one of the original founders of the Guild of Bangladeshi Restaurateurs.

At present, Mr Waess is the Secretary of that organisation and also the President of the Thames Valley Region branch. Recently, he helped to form the Ethnic Catering Alliance, an organisation that links restaurateurs who offer Asian cuisine.

Mr Waess was a founder director of the Bangladesh British Chamber of Commerce, and currently holds the position of Deputy Director General. This organisation has helped to promote strong business links between Bangladesh and EU countries.

He also helped to form the Bangladesh Association Greater Reading (BAGR) in 1993 of which he is the Vice President. This organisation helped to raise funds to convert a church into a mosque and community centre.

Having shown to be dedicated to helping his community, Mr Waess was appointed as the first ethnic trustee to the Berkshire Community Foundation.

Mr Waess is married to Jafrin Khan Waess, and is a father of four children; Imran, Samian, Labiba and Safwan.

Ms Rekha Waheed is currently one of the most talented British Asian writers. Born in West London Ms Waheed became an instant success after releasing her debut novel, 'The A-Z Guide to Arranged Marriage'. Her distinct style has been described as bridging the gap between old world traditions with new world savvv. Ms Rekha Waheed secured a two book publishing deal with Headline Publishing Group. Her second novel 'Deshi Girl' is set to hit British bookshelves in the autumn 2009

The publisher has also secured the seguel to Ms Waheed's debut novel 'The A-Z Guide to Arranged Marriage', which is scheduled to be launched in the spring of 2010. #### M Naufal Zamir SECTOR:

Telecommunications

Naufal Zamir is a successful entrepreneur, a dedicated businessman and a committed leader. He currently heads London-based Zamir Telecom, an enterprise he founded in 2004 with just a laptop and a fax machine. From those humble beginnings, the company boasted a turnover of £11.2M in 2010 - a figure that Mr. Zamir is on track to nearly double in 2011.

Before Mr Zamir was managing a global leader in telecommunications, he was a graduate of law from Dhaka University. He arrived in the UK in 1999, where he came to complete his LLB at London University. In 2003, he qualified as a Barrister-at-Law and was called to the bar by the Honourable Society of Lincoln's Inn. At the time, he was following in the traditions of his family: his father, brother and sister are all legal professionals. And although he secured a role as a criminal defence lawyer at a top city firm, his passion for entrepreneurship drove him to seek out a successful career outside of the family tradition.

Mr Zamir attributes the success of Zamir Telecom to the fact that his company has remained steadfast to the principles that it started with: to provide a simple, reliable, affordable and, above all, honest service to customers. As Mr Zamir puts it, "The customer is king and my business is about bringing people closer." Placing such a high value on the customer is what differentiates Zamir Telecom from its rivals - and the fact that more than 50% of the company's customers are referrals from existing customers is testimony to that.

Mr Zamir has reinforced the organisational structure to ensure that the 50-strong workforce is diverse and has a blend of experience and expertise in the field. This strategy has helped Zamir Telecom to expand its UK market share whilst extending its expertise to foreign markets across Europe, the Middle East, USA and most recently into the African territories of Kenya and Sudan.

In the constantly evolving world of telecommunications, Zamir Telecom has remained innovative and creative, enabling it to expand and develop its position in the market place. Successful services such as SimpleCall allowed the company to secure a substantial stake in the UK's ethnic market, and now Mr Zamir is keen to establish Zamir Telecom to the wider consumer market.

Mr Zamir seeks the support of his peers and the community to achieve these outcomes for his business. The flagship SimpleCall Lounge in East Ham is a brand-new, vibrant and exciting retail environment that houses personal and corporate communication solutions under one roof, and lays the foundation for other businesses under its umbrella, including Fast Track Money Transfer Service.

Outside of Zamir Telecom, Mr Zamir has an eye for success in many areas. His passion for sports means he is Chairperson and sponsor of Scintilla Cricket Club, who have won year-on-year promotion for the last three seasons. The club's success means they will be playing in the Essex Premier League in 2012. As well, he plays badminton on a regular basis, and is only too pleased to support those who are able to leave all their worldly concerns aside when they are in any sports arena. A love of travel has lead to a goal of driving from the UK to Bangladesh.

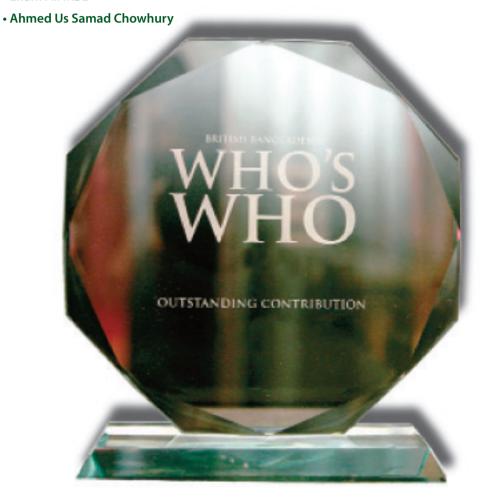

A firm believer in continued personal development, he regularly attends seminars and courses to enrich his business expertise. He then turns around and uses this acumen to coach and nurture fellow entrepreneurs. His advice to aspiring entrepreneurs is to never give up - especially in the trying start-up years of a business. He urges entrepreneurs to develop skills through a background that stems from a quality education, wide work experience and showing flair and leadership

Mr Zamir is married with two sons and lives with his family in Britannia Village, West Silvertown in the Docklands
